TAX QUESTION TO DEMAND TIME OF NEXT CONGRESS

Much Agitation Exists and Relief of Some Kind Must Be Given, Officials Declare. Experts Differ.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE,
Special Correspondent of The News
Spimitar.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16 .- Should washington, Nov. 16.—Should corporations and manufacturing concerns which haven't the money to pay their last installment of income taxes on Dec. 15 be allowed to postpone payment until they have more cash on hand or should Uncle Sam insist that the business houses which haven't saved up everyth money to haven't saved up enough money to pay their taxes suffer the conse-quences of their mistake?

This question is being put up to the treasury department because of the fears of certain textile concerns that unless the government helps out by postponing the December payment income taxes there will be bankruptcy proceedings in many large business establishments.

But the treasury department has no discretion in the matter and officials there say congress alone can authorize the postponement of any payment on income taxes. Inasmuch as congress meets on Monday, Dec. 6. a new law would have to be passed nediately because the present lav requires payment on Dec. 15 and pro-vides penalties for failure to pay.

Would Open Whole Subject,

It is doubtful whether any satis factory measure could be jammed through in a week for it opens up the whole subject of taxation. The most that might be accomplished is a simple amendment to existing reve-nue laws giving the freasury department temporary discretion to act in cases wherein the facts prove a post-ponement is absolutely essential to prevent ruin

Officials who administer the incom tax laws, however, are afraid of such a provision. They say it will re-quire a huge staff and lots of money to determine what is a meritorious case. The income tax bureau has a hard time handling the present propricions of the law without new bur-flens, yet officials recognize the emerrency and realize how serious the consequences may be to the public if many concerns are forced into bank-Income tax executives say they are losing men as fast as they employ new ones. Government salaries are not comparable to the at tractive offers made by the business world. Yet the Republicans being pledged to economy and the cutting down of governmental expenditures, are not in the mood to increase the Rovernment pay roll.

As a matter of fact, it is not the fault of the government that business houses have falled to accumulate a reserve wherewith to pay income taxes. Many corporations did make provision for their December taxes, but the money market became so tight that they couldn't borrow funds to carry on the usual turn-over of their work. So they bor-rowed from themselves—they used up money that should have been kept for income tax payments. Daniel C. Roper, former commissioner of internal revenue, who favors postponing payment of income taxes, insists that the government should be amply protected if it required an interest rate of 8 per cent on deferred payments. This would be higher than market rates of street and would tend to disof interest and would tend to dis-courage too much borrowing from corporation funds that should be set aside for income tax payments.
Yet the entrance of Uncle Sam into the commercial world as a lender of the money to private busivorld as a private business concerns is a new thing and the chief difficulty about it all is the discrimination make necessary by such a step. Where can the line be drawn? Many an individual who pays a small income tax will want to postpone payment especially since the rate of interest will not be disturbing factor to him.

The legislation would have to be broad enough to cover those who pay small as well as large income taxes. Treasury officials are not prepared to say what the effect upon government finance this postponement of revenue collection would make. The United States government has been counting upon col-make. The United States government has been counting upon colections from income taxes in order to pay its own obligations.

Congress will be plunged into a discussion of the whole tax problem the moment the December session begins. The excess profits tax is bound to be repealed or modified.
Even inside the government, where his tax has been looked upon as a mignified manney getter, converts are splendid money getter, converts are being made daily to the view that the excess profits tax has outlived its usefulness. But what shall be put on in its place? The tax experts are far from unanimous in their suggestions. The demand of a few dozen concerns that they be permitted to postpone payment of December taxes is but a symptom of the interest activation, which is ex-December taxes is but a symptom of the intense agitation which is expected next month and throughout the remainder of the year on the subject of taxation. It will not be surprising if the tax question takes even more time than the old controversies on the tariff which used to consume a whole session of congress to the exclusion of other important legislative proposals. More portant legislative proposals. More individuals and more interests are affected by taxation than by all the tariff laws of history and the sums to be raised nowadays are many times greater than the largest tariff law congress ever passed, (Copyright, 1920, by David Lawrence,)

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Easily and cheaply made at home, but it bests them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have Indusands of nousewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using this well-known old recipe for making cough syrup. It is simple and cheap but it known old recipe for making cough syrup. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and given immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or leas.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist, pour it into a pint bottle, and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Physician Explains Who Should Take Nuxated Iron

Practical Advice on How To Help Build Up Great Strength, Energy and Endurance.

"Lack of iron in the blood not only makes a man a physical and mental weakling, nervous, irritable, easily fatigued, but it utterly roba him of that virile force, that stamina and strength of will which are so necessary to success and power in every walk of life, says Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Dept.). New York, and the Westchester County Hospital, "It may also transform a beautiful, sweet-tempered woman into one who is cross, nervous and firitable. I have strongly emphasized the great necessity of physiciars making blood examinations of their weak, aneamic, rundown patients. Thousands of persons go on year after year suffering from physical weakness and a highly nervous condition due to lack of sufficient fron in their red blood corpuseles without ever realizing the real cause of their tromble. Without iron in your blood your food merely passes through the body something like corn through an old mill with rollers so wide apart that the mill can't grind.

"For want of iron you may be an old man at thirty, dull of intellect, poor in memory, nervous, irritable, and sil 'run down,' while at so or 60 with plenty of fron in your blood.

Strick of iron you may still be young in feeling, full of life, your whole being brimming over with vim and energy."

But be sure the iron you take is organic iron—Nuxated fron—In which the sure the iron in wout blood and like the iron in your blood and like the iron is pinach of strong acids on small pieces of inon filings and is therefore an entirely different thing from Nuxated Iron. Nuxated Iron represents organic iron in such a highly concentrated form that one dose is estimated to be approximately equivalent (in organic iron content) to eating one-half quart of spinach, one quart of green vegetables or half a dozen laked apples. It is like taking extraction to beel instead of eating pounds of beef.

Over 4,000,000 people annually, are using Nuxated Iron.—It quickly helps make rich red blood, revitalize wornout exhausted nerves a
